ATTORNEYS ARE ONE ANOTHER’S BEST TEACHERS

YOU AND YOUR FIRM MAY BE IN A POSITION TO TEACH OTHER PRACTITIONERS.

Your expertise can make a difference.

BEE charters and the Legal Services Sector Charter give recognition for skills development and enterprise development initiatives.

Due to an increasing demand for its training services, the Law Society of South Africa’s Legal Education and Development (L.E.A.D) division is rapidly expanding its education, skills transfer, practice management and mentorship offerings for practitioners.

L.E.A.D needs your expertise in your particular fields of practice.

Your firm may receive recognition by participating in the following activities:

- Seminar presentations
- Workshops – Practitioners required as facilitators or coaches.
- Electronic learning – L.E.A.D is in the process of developing this new project for 2010
- Practice management training and development – Practitioners required to teach other practitioners how to establish their practices.
- Schools and courses – Lecturers required to train candidate attorneys.

Advantages

- Teaching presents and opportunity for you to increase your knowledge of your subject.
- An honorarium may be payable.

Kindly complete the attached form and return it at your earliest convenience.
